OUR REVENUE RECEIPTS.

Diminishing on Whisky and Increasing on Beer.

Americans Becoming More Temperate in Their Habits—An Analysis to Made of of American Brands of Beer—The Rapid Increase of Immigration—Notes.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26.—The commissioner of internal revenue, Mr. Miller, is preparing a statement showing to what extent the receipts of the government would be diminished by an absolute repeal of the internal revenue tax. Mr. Miller claims that the prohibition sentiment is growing very rapidly in this country, and he cites the decline in the manufacture of whisky during the last fiscal year as compared with the previous year. For the year ending June 30, 1886, the internal revenue receipts for distilled spirits were $49,093,262.

During the year ending June 30, 1887, the receipts dropped down to $35,821,321, a decrease of $13,271,941. For several years past there has been a gradual falling off in the manufacture of distilled spirits. Mr. Miller attributes this to the more temperate habits of Americans.

While the manufacture of whisky is on the increase, the brewing of beer is becoming more extensive, and that beverage is now the popular American drink. The receipts from beer during the past fiscal year were $21,422,188, against $19,073,731 the year previous, thus showing an increase of $2,348,457.

Commissioner Miller proposes at an early day to have a chemical analysis made by the department chemist of all the American brands of beer manufactured. It is alleged that certain brewers use more alcohol in their beer than the law allows, and the proposed test will probably create a revolution among the makers of what is supposed to be standard beer.

North Carolina's Senator.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26.—The story which reaches here from the south that ex-Governor Jarvis, the present United States minister to Brazil, intends to resign in order to contest the seat of Gen. Ransom, of North Carolina, in the senate next winter, is denied by the North Carolina politicians here. They say that Mr. Jarvis returned to the United States last autumn for the purpose of looking over the ground, but that before his departure for Brazil again he had satisfied himself that it would be impossible to defeat Gen. Ransom, and that there were strong indications that the senator from North Carolina would undoubtedly succeed himself.

Immigration Increasing.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26.—The arrival of immigrants in this country during August past were 37,305, against 33,365 in August, 1886. Germany furnishes the largest number, 7,991; England and Wales, 7,952; Ireland, 2,369; Sweden and Norway, 5,538; Russia, 2,018; Scotland, 1,802; Italy, 1,157.

Bonds for Redemption.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26.—Up to 1 o'clock to-day about $1,800,000 of United States bonds had been received at the treasury department for redemption.

Given Thirty Days to Leave.

OSKALOOSA, Iowa, Sept. 26.—This city is excited at the discovery yesterday morning, of a large dynamite cartridge at the door of the clothing house of Frankel & Co. The cartridge was wrapped closely in paper and attached to the wrapper was another paper with the following written upon it: "Settle up your business and leave in thirty days, or you will be blown to hell. Your self, also your fine stock, building and all." About three weeks ago a similar cartridge was also found in the same place. The first cartridge was examined and found to contain sufficient nitro glycerine to destroy the entire block of buildings. The one found yesterday morning proves to be of greater force than the first one. Frankel & Co., compose one of the wealthiest firms in this section, having a successful banking business in addition to the clothing store.

Quaker Wedding in the Jones Family.

IRONTON, O., Sept. 26.—A wedding occurred here yesterday evening at which a few of the numerous Joneses were married. Frank Jones and Laura Jones and Coda Jones and Luella Jones were the contracting parties. The brides were given away by two Joneses; the lady and gentlemen attendants were Joneses, too, but unfortunately the preacher's name wasn't Jones, but Smith. The happy husbands are brothers, and the charming brides are, or were rather, cousins. Just what relation the future little Joneses will be is a conundrum.

Making Sugar of Beet Root.

NEW YORK, Sept. 26.—Claus Spreckles, the sugar king, arrived on the steamer Sante yesterday from Germany, where he has been investigating the manufacture of beet root sugar. He brings $50,000 worth of machinery back with him for making sugar from beet roots, and says the newly invented method will greatly increase his facilities.

No Place for a Minister.

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., Sept. 26.—Father James Nilan, a leading Catholic divine of this section, has come out strongly for the United Labor party. He urges the prohibitionists to join that party as the best means to attain their own ends. Father Nilan has also braved the censure of his clerical superiors by attending a meeting at which Dr. McGlynn spoke.

The Old Man Was the Better Shot.

SULLIVAN, Ill., Sept. 26.—William P. Corbin and Charles T. Harris, prominent business men, engaged in a shooting affray here yesterday, and when the smoke cleared away Harris was dead. The men had been intimate friends, and quarreled over business matters. Harris was thirty years of age, and Corbin was sixty.

Effect of High License.

ST. PAUL, Sept. 26.—The Pioneer Press, in a long interview of the practical working of the high license law in this state since it went into effect July 1, says that it has reduced the number of saloons, increased the public revenues and lessened the amount of crime.

THE CHOLERA SCARE.

Valuable Information From a Chicago Authority.

CHICAGO, Sept. 26.—In speaking of the Asiatic cholera in quarantine at New York, Health Commissioner DeWolf said last night: "This information is interesting to us if read aright. But we do not need to be alarmed about any immediate danger in this country. The great danger is not from such cases. The clothing, freight and all the effects of this vessel, as well as all persons on board, will be thoroughly disinfected. There will not be the least possibility of any cases arising from it. Where I fear trouble is from the following source: 'The summer clothing which may be packed in the infected districts in Europe may be sent over to this country in a ship that would have no case of cholera aboard to cause any attention to be paid to disinfecting. They are left until spring, and then opened. In a short time the whole country is alarmed with new cases of cholera, arising, apparently, without cause. In 1873 there were three cases of this kind where the clothing that had been packed in the fall in the old country was opened here. There can be no serious effects of this epidemic this fall. It is too late in the season. Cholera germ can not have any results in cold weather. Yes, I really have some fears for next spring—not particularly for this city, but the whole country at large.'"

Governor Hill and Fred Grant.

NYACK, Sept. 26.—The Democratic governor, David B. Hill, and Col. Fred Grant, Republican candidate for secretary of state, were guests of a Rockland County Fair association Friday. Governor Hill at the close of his speech paid a tribute to the late Gen. Grant, whose great desire was to see peace and good feeling among the people. The governor then introduced Col. Grant, and proposed three cheers for him, which he led, swinging his hat as he shouted. Col. Grant briefly thanked the people for their warm greeting, and remarked that he had nothing to say about politics, except that if elected he expected to try and do his duty. Colonel and Mrs. Grant held a public reception that night. During the speaking yesterday a part of the platform broke down, but no one was injured. The governor, whose speech was interrupted, was very cool, and caused a laugh by saying that he had been on political platforms which had broken down, but he hoped not to have that experience again.

Divorce Cases in Chicago.

CHICAGO, Sept. 26.—To-day will be divorce day par excellence in the courts, as there are nearly, if not quite, one hundred default cases to be heard by five judges. Two of them, Judges Shepard and Jamieson, will begin work at 9 o'clock this morning. This is the largest number of divorce cases ever set for hearing in one day in this city. The cause of this number is owing partly to the material growth of population and partly also to the fact that the judges this year kept their vacation religiously and declined to hear any but urgent matters. Judge Collins appears to be the most popular, as he has thirty-one cases on his calendar. Judge Horton comes next with twenty. Judge Shepard has seventeen, Judge Garret sixteen, and Judge Jamieson is at the rear with only eight.

Quick Justice.

MARQUETTE, Mich., Sept. 24.—The shortest murder trial in the history of the upper peninsula was finished to-day. William Andrus was tried for the murder of Jack McGinnis, of this city, on the 4th of July last. A jury was obtained at 9:20 a. m. At noon eighteen witnesses had testified, and argument in the case was completed inside of an hour. The court convened in the afternoon, the case went to the jury, which, in ten minutes, returned a verdict of guilty of manslaughter. Sentence is not yet pronounced.

Beginning to Talk Sense.

NEW YORK, Sept. 26.—A Philadelphia special says: There will be, according to statements from trustworthy sources, an adjustment of the strike troubles in the Lehigh region within a week. It is believed that a committee of employers will meet the managers and that the advance will be paid. The companies state in justification of their course, that not a name signed to the petition for an advance was genuine.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Sept. 26.—A fire last night at Wynne, Ark., destroyed nearly the whole business portion of that town. Total loss fully $25,000, partially insured. Wynne is seventeen miles north of Forest City, Ark., at the junction of the Bald Knob and Helena branch of the Iron Mountain railroad.

Charged With Smuggling.

HALIFAX, N. S., Sept. 26.—The French bark Libertas has been detained at Chatham on a charge of smuggling brandy, and also for making false entry in not reporting to the customs office.

SOCIALISTIC PAMPHLET.

A LITTLE BOOK CREATING A GOOD DEAL OF ATTENTION IN LONDON.

The Different Classes of People Found in a Great City Like London Described. An Accident at Sea—Editor O'Brien Found Guilty and Sentenced to Jail.

LONDON, Sept. 26.—A pamphlet has recently made its appearance here that is attracting a good deal of attention. Its author's name is not stated, but it evidently comes from Socialist sources. Its title page bears the pertinent question, "Who Are Our Dangerous Classes?" The writer has constructed his argument on very skillful lines, and his words certainly claim the attention of his readers. He proceeds to describe the different classes of people found in a great city like London, and speaks of the motives which actuate them all. Then for the purpose of argument he puts them all into two great divisions, namely, those who desire to better their position in life, and those who are satisfied and contented as they are.

In the former class he puts all those who work on wages or possess nothing beyond what they earn from day to day and in the second class he places those who have inherited fortunes and have landed estates. "Restlessness" says the writer of the pamphlet, "is but another name for ambition, and this is what actuates the working class of society. They desire to improve the condition and to advance with the times and to have some hand in the administration of the government under which they live. Opposed to this restless ambition of the progress class is the contentment of the self-satisfied class who desire no change in the well worn machinery of society. They have enough. The world in the present state is good enough for them. They can live well and happily. What matters it who may die of work? The protest against any change and prefer to keep on in the same old rut that society has run in for the last century. They do not seem to be aware that cities are larger and want more numerous and varied now than a hundred years ago."

Then the writer goes on to assert that these contented, well fed people, really constitute the dangerous class of society. He claims that they oppose every movement for advancement and hold fast to old forms because they, being well off, do not see the necessity for any change. The author condemns in the strongest language this lethargy and indifference to the positive necessities of the so-called lower classes. The latter, he says, are waking up to the knowledge of higher and better things, and enlightened civilization contains for them advantages which they do not now possess, if they will but claim them. "Rights," continues the unknown author, "have too long been denied these people, and the time has come when they must obtain them, quietly if possible, but if not quietly, then by force and violence."

"But," it concludes, "the upper classes who are really the dangerous opposers of civilized advancement, must come out of their dormancy and assist in the inevitable revolution of old ideas, or else they must stand from under for the people propose now to demand as rights what once they were wont to ask as gracious privileges."

O'Brien Found Guilty.

MITCHELLSTOWN, Sept. 26.—The trial of Mr. O'Brien was resumed to-day. Just before the proceedings opened Mr. Carson, counsel for the crown, complained to Magistrate Eaton that yesterday Mr. C. Tanner, M. P. for Cork, called him "a mean ruffian coward." Mr. Carson said that the appellation was applied within the precincts of the court room and was accompanied with a further expression on the part of Mr. Tanner to the effect that he hoped he (Carson) would have his head broken.

The magistrate said he would take notice of the alleged offense of Mr. Tanner, and would deal with him in due time. Mr. O'Brien, replying to the charge of sedition brought against him, declared that the court was incompetent to try him, as it was created under a British and foreign constitution. At this point the magistrate stopped Mr. O'Brien, asserting that he would not allow politics to be discussed in the court room, especially an attack on the recognized law of the country.

Mr. O'Brien retorted that he was the chosen representative of the people, elected to advocate free speech. The magistrate here again stopped him, and Mr. O'Brien was found guilty and sentenced to three months' imprisonment. Notice of appeal was given.

The Accident to the Chateau.

LONDON, Sept. 26.—An interview was obtained with Dr. Weymann, of Cincinnati, who was a passenger on the steamship Chateau Margow, that was towed into port yesterday by the steamer Atlas. He says that the propeller broke in the midst of a hurricane on the 4th of September. During the storm the passengers were confined below under battered hatches and were knocked about like ninepins. They suffered a great deal from fear of shipwreck, and it required all the efforts of the officers to encourage them. On the next day the vessel was rigged with sails and made 120 miles, and then there was a calm for a fortnight, during which the ship drifted out of the track of vessels. The engineers set to work and tried to repair the damage to the propeller, and after some time succeeded in improvising a propeller, and started under slow engines. This arrangement proved very good, and although unassisted by the wind, managed to regain the ship's track. Here they soon fell in with a Dutch barque bound to Rotterdam, to which the mails were transferred, and afterward the Atlas took the vessel in tow and brought her in. Dr. Weymann says that the ship was well stocked with provisions and drink, and that there was no suffering on this account, but that they had a plenty.

Will Call on the Emperor.

BERLIN, Sept. 26.—Emperor William, attended by Prince Bismarck, will, on next Saturday, receive the Chinese minister, who will present in later of congratulation and valuable gifts to the knower from the emperor of China.

THE WOOL MARKET.

A Rather Better Tone in the Trade Than a Week Ago.

NEW YORK, Sept. 26.—Bradstreet, in its summary of the wool market, says: No change of any importance is apparent in the state of the wool market. Buyers are operating with great moderation, and prices rule in their favor. There seems to be a rather better tone in the trade than a week or two ago, but this is about the extent of whatever improvement has occurred. The volume of sales has not increased materially. The outlook, however, is more hopeful than for some time past. The leading manufacturers have received fair orders for light weight goods, and the recent free movement of heavy weights from jobbers is accounted a particularly promising sign. Still there is much pressure to sell on the part of financially weak holders both east and west. Speculative buying is also wanting.

The likelihood of any decided rise in values just yet, accordingly, is small. A good attendance at the London sales, with active competition has been reported until within a day or two. The market still irregular, ranging occasionally in buyers' favor, though some of the sections continue in strong demand. Choice Port Phillips wool at Liverpool is 2d to 2 1/2d cheaper than last year, but costs about the same as two years ago, while poorer stuff has not declined so much. The imports of wool into this country show a continuous falling off as compared with last year, and there is more or less talk about a deficiency in the negro's supply.

The Boston market shows no animation, and no change of moment in any respect. Buyers are still restricting their operations, and prices are low. Round lots can be disposed of at concessions, but not otherwise, and further concessions are not made by those holders who are able to wait for developments. The amount of business in sight at the mills is increasing, and this fact will have weight in determining the course of trade in material during the rest of the year. Some large sales of territory wool are reported. In fine Ohio and Michigan fleeces only a moderate amount of business is doing.

The sales for the week at Boston are reported at 2,275,000 pounds as compared with 1,183,000 last week and 6,100,000 in the corresponding week a year ago. At Philadelphia wool has ruled dull and weak. Larger transactions in foreign carpet stock swell the total business of the week to 1,434,000 pounds as against 917,000 pounds last week, but the general demand for domestic wools as been light and unsatisfactory. Trade is retarded by the monetary stringency, which inclines all classes of operators to keep close within the limit of actual requirements. There is no quotable change in values, but the general position favors buyers.

Monument Destroyed.

VICKSBURG, Miss., Sept. 26.—Relic hunters so mutilated the monument with which the government marked the spot where Grant and Pemberton held their famous interview, that it was removed to the Indian mound in the National cemetery north of this city. It has remained there in safety until yesterday. A Copiah county man named R. B. Jones was in the city on a lark and he strolled out to the mound. This seemed to excite his ire, and he tore up an iron tablet on which was embossed the act of congress prescribing the penalties for desecrating United States National cemeteries, and with it hammered the monument out of all recognizable shape. The vandal was loud in his abuse of the "dead Yankees," and when he passed two ladies driving through the cemetery, he made insulting remarks to them. Capt. Raum, deputy United States marshal, arrested him and he was taken before Judge Lowenbury, United States commissioner, and a charge of malicious mischief preferred against him.

Triplets—Grover, Cleveland and Frances.

HARRISBURG, Pa., Sept. 26.—Some time since Mrs. John Hostetter, of Perry county, gave birth to triplets—two boys and a girl. The parents decided to call them Grover, Cleveland and Frances respectively. A letter was written to the president, to which he replied as follows: "Mr. Frye, of Newport, has informed me of the birth to you of three children simultaneously, and has also stated that you have selected Grover, Cleveland and Frances respectively for their names, in compliment to Mrs. Cleveland and myself. I have quite a number of namesakes, whose parents have been good enough to make manifest in this way their friendly feeling, but it is exceptional that the opportunity is presented to show in such a marked degree the confidence and regard your action implies."

Big Cut in Railroad Rates.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Sept. 26.—The Mobile & Ohio railroad has made a big cut in rates in its territory, making a round trip rate of $5 from Atlanta, Chattanooga and surrounding points to St. Louis, and one cent per mile over the rest of its line. It is claimed that this is done because the Louisville & Nashville made a rate independently of other roads. The Mobile & Ohio may have difficulty in maintaining this rate, as it is said that the Louisville & Nashville will exact regular rates over parts of their road used by the Mobile & Ohio. The regular rate one way is $17.50. Tickets are good coming until October 5, and returning until October 28.

Missionary Released.

BOSTON, Sept. 26.—Dr. Smith, secretary of the American board of foreign missions, has just received fresh letters from Mr. Doane, the American missionary at Ponape, who was imprisoned last April by the governor of the Caroline Islands. One of these letters, dated August 6, gives the information that the governor general, after an inquiry into the case, had dismissed all the charges against Mr. Doane and authorized his return to his residence at Ponape. Assurances were also given that in future the mission work on the islands should be uninterrupted and missionaries protected from any sort of interference.

Two Violent Deaths.

CHARLESTON, S. C., Sept. 26.—Perry Richardson, a negro cart driver, shot and killed a negro named Charles Rivers, about 1 o'clock yesterday. He claims the shooting was unintentional. George H. McFadden was shot and mortally wounded by a policeman yesterday morning. The policeman mistook him for a burglar.

MONDAY EVE., SEPT., 26, 1887

"We told you so."

A CHANGE seems to have come over the opinions of the Daily Republican.

THE Daily Republican seems to entertain a different opinion of late on the "pewter-plate" business.

NEW Mexico has gained over 14,000 in population in the past five years, having 184,000 inhabitants by the last count. Gradually are the Territories filling up. It will not be many years now when there will be no Territories left.

THE United States Court at St. Louis recently allowed the two Receivers of the Wabash Railroad $70,000 each for their services. Hereafter one will likely find many a fellow who would rather be Receiver of a railroad than President of his country.

THE trip which President Cleveland will soon pay the West and South, it is estimated, will cost over $12,000, and the New York Sun asks the question, "Will the investment pay?" It will come as near paying Cleveland at that price as it will any one else.

THE "mixed school" question in Ohio is resulting in considerable detriment to the cause of education. It has kicked up a "wow and a wumpus" at a large number of places. At Yellow Springs the School Board has ordered the schools closed indefinitely, until the Legislature can meet and take some action.

"STRANGE, but nevertheless true." The Daily Republican has adopted the "pewter plates." A few months ago it was raving and ranting at a terrible rate, and calling upon the workmen of Mayville to boycott the EVENING BULLETIN for using the "plates." We hope the workmen will not boycott the Republican.

THE remains of the late General William Preston were interred Saturday in Cave Hill Cemetery at Louisville. He will be remembered by the people of his State as one of her most illustrious sons. Though directly opposed to the deceased as far as political opinions were concerned, Murat Halstead, of the Cincinnati Commercial-Gazette, pays him the following tribute:

"The death of General William Preston, of Kentucky, removes from the sight of the audience that witnesses the plays on the stage of the world one of the finest personal figures in a State famous for men of commanding presence.

"Indeed, he was one of the most prepossessing and pleasing of men, and had a gift of conversation that charmed all listeners. His sympathies were entirely and profoundly Southern in the great sectional conflict, and his war record and adventures after the war were almost equal in romantic interest to the experiences of his friend Breckinridge, whose war career was one of remarkable vicissitudes.

"Now that he is gone, it will be seen in Kentucky that there is not left in the State a citizen who is so picturesque, historical and imposing."

Pithy Points from Washington.
 The rum traffic is to-day the sworn foe to government, to religion, to morality, and to all else that is honored and valued among men.

The liquor traffic is to-day the sworn ally of all crime and criminals, of anarchy and disorder, of vice and violence, and of murder and the gallows.

The man that favors the continuance of the whiskey trade voluntarily casts his lot with people who make it the business of their lives to manufacture boys into drunkards and criminals.

This man says, by his tacit consent, that he approves of a traffic which makes drunkards and paupers, which makes a hell of homes, and which hurls men to ruin and perdition.

He gives his consent to a traffic which wrecks homes, fills almshouses and jails, brings want and woe to families, and lands men on the gallows and in hell.

The man who is not opposed to the traffic in rum is in favor of a continuance of that which breeds only strife and disorder, crime and bloodshed, misery and woe.

The Morning Dress.

It is said that a lady's standing in society can easily be determined by her dress at the breakfast table; an expensive, showy costume indicating that the wearer has not yet learned the proprieties. But no one need be afraid of being called "shoddy" if her loveliness is as apparent by daylight as at the hops. Perfect beauty is never the attendant of disease; above all, of those diseases peculiar to women, and which find a ready cure in Dr. Pierce's "Favorite Prescription." Price reduced to $1. By druggists.

THE PITCHER'S ARM.

ADVICE WHICH A DOCTOR GIVES THE BASEBALL PLAYER.

Exercise Should Be Taken in the Sunshine—Benefits of Little Use to the Pitcher's Disabled Arm—Hints of General Value.

Dr. Leuf fully explains for the benefit of his brothers in medicine the different symptoms and ailments of the pitcher's arm, and how they are produced, and he asserts that the bones are frequently involved in the affections of pitchers' arms. He says this last assertion may subject him to skeptical criticism, but he makes it most positively. Dr. Leuf gives the pitcher some good advice for the preservation of his pitching arm. He prescribes regular exercise regardless of the work done in a game. A pitcher during practice should work at his ease and occasionally put on a spurt in speed and make an effort to do his best. Then he should lapse back again into easy work. When a pitcher has an "off" day, a day when he lacks natural interest in his work, it is well to do nothing but easy pitching. At no time should the exercise be violent—that is, straining at the beginning.

Beginning the exercise with ease, and gradually increasing it, enables the muscles to accustom themselves to associate or co-ordinate work. The truth of this is borne out by the fact that most of the wrenches and dislocations that happen to ball players occur in the early part of the season and in the early part of the game. Pitchers, to be in "good form," should practice for about one hour every morning and afternoon, Sundays included. The exercise should be restricted to fifteen or twenty minutes for that half of the day in which regular work is to be done in a game. Dr. Leuf further recommends that all exercise be taken in the sun. It is risky to pitch with vigor when the temperature in the shade falls below 60 degs. It is necessary after severe outdoor practice at a lower temperature than 60 degs. to keep the body very warm, either by vigorous general exercise, such as walking, or better still by keeping in a warm room for one or two hours. This is all important at the beginning of the season with one who has been out of practice during the winter. An important fact to bear in mind, though seldom, if ever, appreciated, is that it is of vastly more importance to maintain a high temperature equally about the whole body than taking good (if) care of the pitching arm and letting the rest of the body take care of itself. This latter plan is the one usually followed, but is radically wrong.

Limbs should never be used on a pitcher's arm; or, in fact, on any part of the body of an athlete in case of pain from over-exertion. In the first place, they are utterly useless, and instead of mitigating the deep-seated pains, they add to them that of an irritant. In the second place, if they contain acetic acid, and if this constituent is absorbed, it becomes the terminal nerve filaments and so lowers the maximum of muscular contractibility, as well as the rapidity of its responsiveness to the will and coordination reflexes. Morphia or opium and other analgesics are not unlikely to produce exactly similar results. That liniments sometimes have a good effect in these cases I do not deny, but the effect is mainly that of a much required placebo, and in such instances it is best to use a very mild, non-anodyne liniment, with plenty of hot flannel. Rubbing, massage and passive motion should invariably be discouraged. These manipulations are excellent substitutes for voluntary exercise in patients who are helpless or comparatively so, but they serve no beneficial purpose to a limb that has just ceased undergoing the severest kind of physical strain for one or two hours. Such a part requires temporary rest, and will do best without systematic exercise, though passive, till the next regular period for practice.

Regular exercise twice daily in the manner already indicated should form the main treatment of a diseased pitching arm. Every other plan of treatment, to be permanently beneficial, must be subservient to this one idea. The object of a continuous exercise is to encourage and bring to a climax and final completion those congestive and inflammatory processes in the muscles, ligaments, cartilage and bones that lead to hypertrophy and necessary increase in strength.

Much of the pain experienced immediately after a game or practice may be abolished by position. As a rule, if the arm is held directly upward, preferably by another person without any effort on the part of the patient, there will speedily ensue a sense of comparative comfort. A few gentle strokes from the hand along the arm down to the base of the shoulder facilitate the return of blood and hasten relief. Immersion of the whole upper extremity and shoulder into water at as high a temperature as can be tolerated produces a most gratifying sensation of relief. If a rubber sleeve including the whole limb and fitting tightly about the base of the shoulder is applied with the arm held up over the head by an assistant, and the water turned into the sleeve, the result will be the combined effects of hot water and gravitation. This may be kept up for from five to thirty minutes, depending upon the severity of the pain, and upon the effect trials have shown it to have on that particular patient. The drying of the patient's arm must be done gently. There must be no vigorous rubbing or squeezing. He should not at all refrain from using it for ordinary purposes even if it be somewhat painful.

In severe cases, where there is an excess of inflammatory products, the best remedy is mild galvanism. The strength of current and length of time it is employed are determined by experience with the patient under treatment and his own sensations. This seems to be the best rule.—Philadelphia Times.

A Story of Dr. McGlynn.

When Father McGlynn was being educated for the priesthood at Rome, according to the story of a New Jersey priest, he attended exercises in a large hall. A panic was caused by the beams supporting the floor giving way. Young McGlynn rushed to the platform, and in commanding terms ordered the crowd to return, as there was no danger. The people obeyed, when Pope Pius IX, who was on the platform, asked his neighbor who the young man was who had checked the disorder so successfully. It was young Edward McGlynn, an American student, his holiness was informed, and then he said: "The man who said that will surely make his mark in the church."—Brooklyn Eagle.

Death of an Historic Church.

Boston, Sept. 26.—One of Boston's oldest churches is about to pass out of existence. The Hollis Street church, Unitarian, whose house of worship, erected in 1834 in the fashionable Back Bay district, has nearly completed arrangements for disposing of its elegant edifice to the South Congregational Church and Society, of which Rev. Edward Everett Hale is pastor. The two bodies will merge. Dr. Hale's church is already one of the strongest in the city and in the Unitarian denomination generally. The Hollis Street church was founded in 1730. For many years the society worshipped in a building on Hollis street, the site being now occupied by the Hollis Street theater. Among its pastors have been the famous hymn writer, Rev. John Pierpont, and the equally famous Rev. Thomas Starr King. The present pastor is Rev. H. Bernard Carpenter.

Must Be a Mistake.

CITY OF MEXICO, Sept. 26.—There is a good deal of uneasiness in political circles regarding the rumored attempt to Guatemala to secure the support of the United States government as against Mexico. It is felt here that such a step would do much to disturb the pleasant relations existing between Mexico and the United States, which at present are inducing heavy investments of American capital here. The case against Guatemala is this: Insults have been offered to members of the Mexican legation there, which, it is said, have not been properly atoned for, and while the Mexican government is not acting offensively toward Guatemala, it is demanding just compensation for the assaults on officials of the legation. The fight in Guatemala is largely a clerical conflict, and assumes the aspect of a religious war, and many politicians here say they do not believe the United States will interfere in so delicate a matter.

Wanted to Be "Next" Right Away.

WACO, Texas, Sept. 26.—Stephen Drago, an Italian laborer, shot and killed George Barnwell, a saloon keeper, in his barbershop last night. Barnwell attempted to take a chair out of his turn when the barber interfered, a quarrel ensued, which resulted in the shooting. Drago is under arrest.

Child-Murderer to Hang.

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., Sept. 26.—John M. Schuyler, who murdered his infant child in Otsego county two years ago by dashing out its brains, was brought to this city yesterday for sentence by the judges of the general term. He was sentenced to be hanged at Cooperstown on November 10.

Jacob Sharp's Condition.

NEW YORK, Sept. 26.—Jacob Sharp did not feel so well last night. He became so restless that a sleeping potion had to be administered. It had the desired effect, and Mr. Sharp gained some rest. This morning it was later than usual when he arose.

Gagged and Robbed.

PIQUA, O., Sept. 26.—The farm residence of Lemuel Knop, three miles east of town, was entered last night by two men, who bound and gagged Knop, ransacked his house, and carried away with them $200 in money and some other valuables.

Objected to Colored Children.

LAWRENCEBURG, Ind., Sept. 26.—The white school children of a school house in Washington township, Dearborn county, Ind., have withdrawn for the past week because two colored children were admitted.

Dropped Dead.

UNION CITY, Ind., Sept. 26.—William Morrow, a well known citizen of this place, dropped dead of heart disease this morning.

Above all other earthly ills
 Have the big, old-fashioned pills:
 By slow degrees they downward wend,
 And often pause, or upward tend;
 With such discomfort they are fraught,
 Their good effects amount to naught.
 Now Dr. Pierce prescribes a pill
 That just exactly fits the bill—
 A Pellet, rather, that is all—
 A Pleasant Purgative, and small;
 Just try them as you feel their need,
 You'll find that Laxative truth, indeed.

Fashion's Fancies.

Phid ribbons predominate in fall sashes.
 Large plaids will be generally worn this season.

The jersey still remains the standard garment.

Bonnets are small and large and medium sized.

In plain cloths the very latest thing is drap d'alou.

Lace goes out with the whispering of autumn winds.

Stripes will be used for undershirts and plaids for overshirts.

A new style of hats is the felt crown with the Blondin tip.

Velvet epaulettes will be worn on ladies' fall and winter gowns.

Ruching is very little worn in the neck and sleeves of dresses.

Plaited skirts with bouffant drapery is the style for little girls.

Fashionable street or working costumes do not touch the ground.

Bonnet jackets will be worn more than ever this fall and winter.

The "Gainsborough" in felt, plush and beaver, will probably be a favorite winter hat.

The round low-cornered hat, with single band of ribbon, is the hat for "hack" wear.

Dainty little lace caps, trimmed according to the style of the wearer, are all the rage for indoors.

The fashionable shades in dress goods will be terra cotta and heliotrope, very trying to most complexions.

Don't Experiment.

You cannot afford to waste time in experimenting when your lungs are in danger. Consumption always seems, at first, only a cold. Do not permit any dealer to impose upon you with some cheap imitation of Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs and colds, but be sure you get the genuine. Because he can make more profit he may tell you he has something just as good, or just the same. Don't be deceived, but insist upon getting Dr. King's New Discovery, which is guaranteed to give relief in all throat, lung and chest affections. Trial bottle free at the drug stores of J. C. Pecor & Co., and S. P. Campbell & Co., of Aberdeen Ohio.

During Mr. Hanford's stay at conference he will be the guest of Hon. W. J. Worthington.

ODDFELLOWSHIP.

Reports to Sovereign Grand Lodge Show a Prosperous Condition of the Order—Marked Increase in Membership.

The annual meeting of the Sovereign Grand Lodge, I. O. O. F., was held at Denver, Col., last week. The meeting was largely attended, and the Grand Representatives were entertained in grand style not only at Denver, but at St. Louis, Kansas City, Topeka and other points along their trip from Cincinnati. The report of the Grand Sire is an interesting document. He says: "It is a gratifying fact that the year which closed with the thirty-first day of December, 1886, has been a prosperous one for our order. The increase in membership has been most marked, and, judging from indications, the present year will be much more prosperous than the preceding one. While it is true that some jurisdictions have exhibited a decline in membership, yet the general increase for 1886 was 11,910 greater than that of 1885. The causes of decline in certain of the jurisdictions are apparent to any one at all conversant with the condition of the particular jurisdictions. It is a marvel to those unacquainted with the organization, the purposes and principles of the Independent Order of Oddfellows, that, in spite of all the opposition it encounters, amidst the thousand-and-one secret fraternal organizations which have sprung up in the country within the last few years, all appealing to the interests, the passions and prejudices of the public, our grand old order should continue to march right along, steadily increasing in membership, in wealth, in power and in influence; but to us who know its worth, who have participated in its benefits and shared in its enjoyments, it is no marvel at all. Its principles are rooted deep down in the human heart, its purposes and practices are grateful to the feelings and in accordance with the impulses of every generous nature. Such an institution must continue to increase and prosper so long as the nature of man shall remain unchanged and misery and misfortune encounter the earth.

The present condition of the order, as appears from the returns in the Grand Secretary's office, is as follows:

	74	Increase.
Grand lodges.....	8,108	152
Subordinate lodges.....	44
Grand encampments.....	1,996	49
Subordinate encampments.....	44,908	8,598
Lodge initiations.....	630,300	12,900
Lodge members.....	91,630	2,472
Encampment initiations.....	97,773	3,397
Encampment members.....	$2,227,324 50	$46,422 57
Total revenue.....	6,659,772 37	350,083 60

The grand summing up showed the membership and accounts paid for relief as follows:

	Members.	Relief.
Sovereign Grand Lodge.....	$30,300	$2,911,033 69
Australia.....	15,170	58,432 00

Rebekah (sisters).....	33,958	19,290 80
Totals.....	81,261	$2,288,506 45

The summing up of the Grand Treasurer's report was as follows: The available assets of the Sovereign Grand Lodge, August 20, 1887, are as follows:

Balance in treasury.....	$25,819 06
United States 4 1/2 per cent. registered bonds, par.....	13,300 00
United States 4 1/2 per cent. coupon bonds, par.....	40,000 00
United States 4 per cent. coupon bonds, par.....	2,500 00
Total assets available.....	$81,619 06

Los Angeles, Cal., was selected as the place of the next meeting of the Sovereign Grand Lodge.

Circuit Court at Carlisle.

The Nicholas Circuit Court convened at Carlisle last week with Judge Cole and Commonwealth's Attorney Sallee at their posts. Considerable work has been done on the criminal docket. Nat Johnson has been convicted of house breaking and given two years in the penitentiary. Geo. T. Wallace was tried for horse stealing, but the jury hung, standing eight to four for conviction. Wallace's case will be called for trial again next Friday.

A. J. Banta has been convicted of a violation of the local option law in three cases, and fined $25 and costs in each case. There were about twenty-six indictments against him at the commencement of court. Of these six had been tried Saturday, resulting in three convictions and three acquittals, and leaving twenty yet to be heard. Banta is making a determined fight in each case. Mike Rafferty, of Lower Blue Licks, and John Barrett and James Cain, of Carlisle, have also been convicted of violations of the local option law and fined $25 and costs each. There are twelve or fifteen more indictments against Rafferty for the same offense, yet to be tried.

George English was fined $25 and sent to jail ten days for carrying a deadly weapon concealed.

Mrs. Sallie Fleming and daughter were convicted of a misdemeanor and fined $35 each.

Judgment for $100 on a forfeited bond was entered against Jackson Reed, charged with unlawful gaming.

Stewards' Meeting, M. E. Church, South.

The District Stewards' meeting for Maysville District, M. E. Church, South, will be held at Nepton, Fleming County, on Saturday, October 1st, at 10 a. m. It is important that all the Stewards be in attendance, or be represented by alternates. Rev. John R. Peeples, P. E.

Miss Ella Burgess, of Kearney, Mo., who has been spending several weeks at Fern Leaf, left last Saturday to visit relatives at Covington.

THE M. E. Church, South, has two hundred and fifty church buildings within the bounds of the Kentucky Conference, and the value of these buildings is placed at over $617,000.

A. H. CARR, of Poplar Flat, S. B. Parsons, of Burtonville, Hon. S. G. Hillis, of Concord and Dr. William Bowman, of Tollesboro, are among the Grand Army men who left last Saturday for St. Louis to attend the National Encampment of the G. A. R.

If there be any truth in the old saying, "Laugh and grow fat," the lean ones of Maysville should by all means put in their appearance at the opera house to-morrow night, September 27th, and see Hardy & Young's Bad Bay. Admission only 25, 35 and 50 cents.

WILLIAM CAMPBELL, an old citizen of the Shannon neighborhood, died yesterday, of hernia. He was past seventy years of age, and had been a sufferer for some time. Funeral at Shannon this afternoon at 2 o'clock. Services by Rev. D. A. Beardsley, of this city.

THE "Bad Boy" entertainment at the opera house to-morrow night is not a 15-cent show. The admission is 25, 35 and 50 cents, instead of 15, 25 and 35 as we stated last Saturday. We are assured the company is a good one, and the 25-35-50-cent rates ought to insure a crowded house.

MESSRS. GEORGE W. ROGERS, Joe Hart and Commonwealth's Attorney Sallee took a trip yesterday afternoon over the Maysville and Big Sandy Railroad as far up as Cabin Creek, on a tour of inspection. We are told they were delighted with their trip, and with the progress of the work on the road.

A PARTY of about twenty, consisting of Chief Engineer Childs and other railroad officials and a few invited guests, took a trip up to Cabin Creek by special train yesterday afternoon. Favorable progress is being made with the iron-work of the bridge at that point. The trestling to be used in placing the heavy iron in position will soon be completed.

AT the fire in Paris the other night a certain preacher lost a "valuable lot of sermons in manuscript." He advertises for their return, stating their loss was "a matter of much more serious concern to him than the loss of his gold watch and chain." Perhaps the sermons were borrowed ones, in which event their loss will rather embarrass the reverend gentleman.

IN the Circuit Court at Covington last Saturday, J. B. Wisenall, a former citizen of Maysville, recovered judgment for $500 against Steffen Brothers, of that city. Some time last spring a team of horses belonging to Steffen Brothers ran off and ran over Mr. Wisenall, breaking his leg and inflicting other injuries, which disabled him from work for a month or two. When he recovered he brought suit for $5,000 damage, with the above result.

REV. T. F. GARRETT, the pastor of the Methodist Episcopal Churches at Sardis and Murphysville, took the early train to-day for Greenup, Ky., where the annual conference will convene Wednesday. During his three years as pastor of the above churches he has received 214 persons into full membership, baptized 231, and had 352 additions to the church on probation. In addition to this, we might add that he has married thirteen couples.

Considerable Damage by Frost. Late reports from several parts of the county show that the tobacco standing in the field was considerably damaged by the frost last Saturday morning. Especially was this the case in some of the low land back from the river. The frost seems to have been heavier in some places than others. Ice was reported at several points.

Settling a Right of Way. The case of the Maysville and Big Sandy Railroad Company against Pogue & Thomas was called for trial in the County Court this morning. The route for the railroad has been changed somewhat in the West End, the new survey taking in part of the defendants' bonded warehouse. The commissioners appointed by the court allowed defendants $5,000 damages for the right of way through their distillery property, but they were not satisfied with the award, and the case is now being tried by Judge Coons and a jury. Following is the jury:

Thomas J. Winter,	R. P. Tolle,
A. D. Dickson,	James E. Cahill,
James Cumbers,	Thomas Forman,
Reason Downing,	T. H. Brady,
E. G. Kirk,	Samuel B. Chunn,

Wadsworth & Son and Whitaker & Robertson represent the company, while Mr. T. C. Campbell, is the defendants' attorney.

STILL IN THE BALANCE.

WILL THE ANARCHISTS CASES BE TAKEN TO A HIGHER COURT.

State's Attorney Grinnell Confident That the Condemned Men Will Hang According to Program—The Prisoners to Be Rescued by Force if Necessary.

CHICAGO, Sept. 26.—Gen. Roger A. Pryor was quoted in yesterday's dispatches as saying that he was undecided just what form of appeal he would take in the Anarchist case, but that he should attack the constitutionality of the Illinois law regarding the construction of the jury. "This law has been in operation since 1874," said Gen. Pryor, "and has not yet been passed upon by the supreme court."

"I haven't anything to say about the matter," Mr. Grinnell replied, with his usual urbanity, to a reporter who ventured to ask him what he thought of Gen. Pryor's views on the jury law. "I have already said that the Anarchist case cannot be carried into the United States supreme court on any pretext whatsoever."

"The constitutionality of the law has never been called in question before," said Judge Jamieson. "I have not read the full report of the supreme court decision in the Anarchist case. It may be that exceptions were taken during the trial before Judge Gary on this point. If such exceptions were taken the supreme court certainly acted upon them. If the point cannot now be raised, as the United States supreme court will only consider such points as were raised during the trial of the case. The act itself is the law under which all our juries were drawn, and if at some future time it should prove unconstitutional, it would, of course, have a very widespread influence upon Illinois courts in general. It is certainly a vital point."

George Francis Train Takes a Part. CHICAGO, Sept. 26.—George Francis Train has sent word that he will give a public lecture here every evening from next Sunday until the date fixed for the execution of the Anarchists, in which he will urge a new trial for the condemned men. He says he has not spoke to a living man for ten years, and has refused an offer of $50,000 from Harum, but he will speak and do all he can to secure fair treatment of the Anarchists.

Will Arm for the Rescue if Need Be. NEW YORK, Sept. 26.—About fifty members of the Progressive Labor party met here yesterday evening. Forty dollars were collected for the relief of the condemned Chicago Anarchists, and a resolution was adopted pledging support to every movement for their relief, and in the event of the failure of all other methods they were to arm themselves and rescue them by force.

General Pryor Talks.

New York, Sept. 26.—A reporter called on Gen. Pryor to-day to ascertain if possible the name of the judge to whom he meant to apply for a writ of error in the case of the condemned Chicago Anarchists. "We shall most undoubtedly apply for the writ of error," said the general, "but what justice we are going to make our application to has not yet been decided."

Mrs. Parsons Released on Bail. CHICAGO, Sept. 26.—Mrs. Lucy Parsons, who was arrested Friday afternoon for distributing copies of her husband's address to the public, was subsequently released on a bail deposit of $25 to secure her appearance, it having been made by the editor of the Arbeiter Zeitung.

TAN WANG JOSS.

A Remarkable Parade of Chinamen in Honor of Their God.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 26.—The Chinese residents of this city had a remarkable parade in honor of a great idol known as Tan Wang recently brought from China. The parade was of Oriental magnificence, but was confined to streets and alleys in Chinatown. The costumes, banners and Oriental weapons, an incident of the parade, were brought from China especially for this occasion. There were 1,000 Chinamen in line and numerous women on richly caparisoned horses.

The entire column presented a blaze of color. The women wore long silken gowns, and at their sides walked attendants holding high over their heads banners of gold. The men in procession carried antique war implements, long gilt maces, elaborately carved swords or spears, around whose points were coiled gilt lizards, snakes and flaming dragons. A number of tall banners that sprang twenty feet in the air preceded another heavily armed battalion attired in the brightest yellow, and carrying weapons, no two of which were alike. Immediately preceding the mighty Joss Tan Wang was a band of musicians sounding huge gongs and kettle drums; while a body of cannoners kept up a constant fusillade of the crackers. Twelve worshipers, clad in light yellow, carried Tan Wang, who sat in a huge chair. About him and behind him trod attendant priests in long black satin robes that swept the ground. They were accompanied by bearers whose shoulders were hung from the ends of long red poles.

Following Tan Wang was a dragon 175 feet long and described as the most gorgeous ever seen in America. He was supported by sixty worshipers. This monster opened its mouth, writhed its body and by appliances known only to the Chinese, kept up a general outward appearance of being possessed of life, and as though desiring to devour the spectators viewing its contortions. The idol will be placed in Joss house to be worshipped.

Buried Treasure Found. CHARLESTON, S. C., Sept. 26.—Two brick masons named N. J. Neville and Harry McCarthy, while working in an old cistern or well, located under the Bank of Charleston, on Broad street, found a large quantity of solid silverware, which had evidently been buried there during the war. The silver is much damaged and a considerable portion has been sent north to be melted up.

New York, Sept. 26.—A special from Burlington, N. J., to the World says: Lizzie Peak, the post-war sister of Barclay Peak, now under sentence of death for shooting his cousin, Merv Anderson, developed with Martin McIntosh, the cowboy, who recently figured in an alleged duel in Beverly.

Hon. E. B. Washburn Getting Better. CHICAGO, Sept. 26.—Hon. E. B. Washburn is stated to be somewhat better this morning, and some hopes are now entertained of his recovery.
